

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation in strong support of Izabel Benson for your scholarship program. Izabel is an exceptional student, a committed athlete, and a young woman of outstanding character and integrity.

Izabel comes from a family of educators and was raised with a strong Christian faith and solid values, which are evident in her conduct, leadership, and dedication to service. She is highly intellectual, self-motivated, and possesses a strong sense of responsibility. Izabel consistently demonstrates initiative and does not require direction to be productive; rather, she naturally steps into leadership roles and ensures that tasks are completed efficiently and thoroughly.

This past summer, Izabel began assisting our football team, where her leadership and work ethic quickly became invaluable. There are many days when operations in the training room would not run effectively without her presence. She takes ownership of her responsibilities, leads with confidence, and contributes positively to the overall success of the program.

Beyond athletics, Izabel is a respected leader within the school, her church, and the broader community. She is deeply committed to serving others and has been an active and dependable member of Partner's Club, which supports the Special Olympics. Additionally, she has held multiple leadership roles both at school and within her church. In each of these roles, Izabel's involvement has been instrumental in maintaining organization, momentum, and positive engagement.

Izabel Benson exemplifies the qualities of leadership, service, and excellence that scholarship programs seek to support. I recommend her without reservation and am confident she will continue to make meaningful contributions wherever she is given the opportunity. Should you require any additional information, I would be happy to provide it.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Doug Loughridge
Retired Head Football Coach/Athletic Director
