

Scholarship Selection Committee:

I am honored to recommend Brie Ann Genzer for your scholarship. As her AP United States History teacher for the past year as well as her Cross Country Coach, I have observed Brie Ann's exceptional work ethic, deep commitment to her community, and consistently high academic standards. I believe she embodies the qualities your scholarship seeks to support.

Brie Ann was one of my strongest students in AP US History. She arrived to class thoroughly prepared, engaged with primary and secondary sources at a high level, and contributed insights that elevated class discussions. Her written work demonstrated careful analysis, clear organization, and a mastery of historical evidence and argumentation. Brie Ann's preparation for class, completing readings, annotating texts, and formulating thoughtful questions—was consistently impressive and set a model for her peers.

Brie Ann's work ethic extends well beyond the classroom. She approaches every responsibility with focus, persistence, and integrity. She balances a rigorous course load with extracurricular and volunteer commitments, demonstrating excellent time management and the ability to sustain high performance under pressure. When facing challenges, she pursues solutions proactively and welcomes feedback to improve—qualities that predict long-term academic and professional success.

Equally impressive is Brie Ann's dedication to community involvement. She mentors youth athletes through the track program, providing coaching, encouragement, and role modeling that help young people build confidence, discipline, and healthy habits. Additionally, Brie Ann organizes and runs local food drives, coordinating volunteers, logistics, and outreach to ensure families in need receive timely support. Her leadership in these efforts is genuine and results-driven: she listens to community needs, builds inclusive teams, and follows through on details to create measurable impact.

Academically, Brie Ann maintains high standards in both coursework and intellectual curiosity. Beyond AP US History, she consistently achieves strong grades in challenging classes and demonstrates mature analytical thinking, clear written expression, and thoughtful participation in discussion. Brie does not settle for superficial understanding—she asks probing questions, synthesizes feedback, and applies new concepts across disciplines. Her academic record reflects not just talent, but disciplined effort and a growth mindset.

Beyond these strengths, Brie Ann is incredibly respectful, empathetic, and collaborative. Peers seek her out for guidance; teachers rely on her to model responsibility and leadership. She carries herself with humility and purpose, and she is motivated by service and learning rather than accolades.

In short, Brie Ann Genzer is an outstanding candidate for your scholarship. The financial support and recognition your award provides would accelerate her ability to pursue higher education and further her community impact. I give her my highest recommendation and am confident she will excel and contribute meaningfully to any academic community she joins.

Please feel free to contact me at meghan.davis@wcs.edu if you need additional information.

Sincerely,

Meghan Davis

Nolensville High School

AP European History/AP US History