To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Drew Davis. I have known Drew since the beginning of his sophomore year when he transferred to our school from a private school in the area. Although Drew has always been a solid student, the grades that he transferred in with from his previous school put him at a disadvantage; whereas our top students were taking AP and honors courses their freshman year, Drew was not afforded the same opportunities. This has had a negative impact on both his class rank and cumulative GPA which he has struggled to bounce back from although his grades with us have been stellar. He has even enrolled in eight community college courses along with 2 APS and an honors class this year in an effort to even the playing field. This level of dedication is truly impressive.

Drew's list of activities and accomplishments is lengthy, so I will focus on the ones which have had the greatest impact on him personally and on our school community. Drew is the founder and president of a club called Best Buddies, which fosters relationships between mainstream students and students with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Under his leadership, the club has grown to include 42 students of all intellectual abilities. This has truly made an impact on our school, allowing exceptional students to have an inclusive community where they feel they are accepted and belong. I have been so impressed with Drew's initiative and drive with the leadership of this club.

Although many students attest that their goal is to attend law school, Drew actively searches out opportunities to become involved in the political community. He served as both the party platform chair and House Minority Leader at Boys State; worked as a page in the North Carolina Senate Page program; is a delegate at our school's branch of Youth and Government; is a delegate for the Winston-Salem Foundation's Youth Grantmakers in Action; and currently serves as the Senior Class President. All of these experiences have deepened Drew's desire to delve deeper into the field of political science.

Drew is an exceptional student and influential leader in our school and community. He is most deserving of any scholarship opportunity. Please feel free to reach out to me with any questions or concerns.

Best,
