Re: Recommendation for Kaci Yost

I, Alison Leinen, have been a social sciences teacher and former speech coach for Kaci Yost, an applicant for this scholarship. As a student, Kaci has excelled in her academics throughout her high school career. Currently, Kaci is enrolled in college level coursework to get a jumpstart on her collegiate career. Kaci is also an active member of the National Honor Society and continually an addition to the honor roll, both an example of how she has strived in her academics. As a student, Kaci regularly thrives and excels in her coursework and is an active participant within the classroom.

Alongside her excellent academic capabilities, Kaci has also been an active component of leadership roles throughout her career at Sutton High School. As a senior, she has participated in numerous extracurricular activities that have prepared her for leadership and motivational skills she possesses. Throughout these activities, Kaci has demonstrated these qualities by being a listening ear and providing sound advice for her fellow peers. Throughout her career in speech, Kaci was competing in group events, which take an ample balance of time management, patience and team collaboration. I have also been fortunate to have Kaci teach swim lessons to my oldest daughter; she was an encouraging and patient teacher throughout the process and left my daughter a more confident swimmer.

Based on her academic credentials and her participation in school-wide activities, Kaci would be an excellent recipient of this scholarship. With the culmination of both her leadership and motivational skills, Kaci has excelled in her high school career and will continue onto her collegiate career. Please contact me using the information listed below to further discuss Kaci's qualifications for this scholarship.

Sincerely,

Alison Leinen
