To Whom It May Concern,

It is my privilege to write this letter of recommendation for Layton Massie. I have had the pleasure of instructing Layton in his Zane State College CCP Math courses over the past 3 years. During this time I have witnessed Layton's math skills develop, as well as a strong mathematical mindset and confidence. This year, Layton decided to continue his math education by taking PreCalculus. Initially he had not planned on taking this course as he had met his graduation requirement for math the previous year. Layton chose to take PreCalculus because he wanted to give himself every opportunity for success in college. Layton is able to look into the distance and make the hard choices today that will lead to a better tomorrow. He is one of the most organized and detail oriented students I have encountered. He meticulously takes notes and utilizes them well to prepare for assessments and other demonstrations of learning. Layton understands the importance of asking questions and is able to articulate his questions in a meaningful way. Over the course of his time at River View, he has taken many CCP courses both on and off campus as well as online. Layton has been successful in these courses because of his self motivation, desire to succeed, and perseverance.

Outside of the classroom, Layton is a 3 sport athlete; Soccer, Basketball, and Baseball. As an athlete, Layton gives his all every time he is on the field. He is a positive and uplifting teammate who pushes the team to get 1% better and work 1% harder everyday. The schedule of an athlete requires immense time-management, the ability to prioritize, and dedication. Layton Massie may be the best student I have ever worked with in these skills. When he is not on the sports field, he is working on his family's agricultural farm. Layton is involved in numerous tasks at the farm including planting and harvesting their crops. In addition, Layton is a member of River View's Teen Leadership Corps. This organization helps to develop leaders and leadership skills as well as fostering and providing opportunities for Community Service. Layton has volunteered in a variety of ways both within River View Local Schools and Coshocton County. He has a genuine passion for helping others and his community.

Because of Layton's academic determination, kind spirit, and heart of service, it is my pleasure to recommend him for the awarding of scholarship funds. These funds would allow him the opportunity to attend college to further develop his knowledge and skill in Agriculture. Layton plans to work on the farm alongside his family after college using these skills. He would be a tremendous ambassador for your organization. I know Layton will continue to do amazing things, but more importantly, I am confident that he will continue to be an outstanding person who makes this world a better place for everyone.

Best Regards,

Carrie Wymer
