

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my sincere pleasure to recommend Drew Davis for the Tall Clubs International Foundation scholarship. As Drew's AP Comparative Government teacher at Ronald W. Reagan High School, I have had the opportunity to observe not only his exceptional academic ability, but also his genuine commitment to civic engagement and leadership.

Drew is one of the strongest AP students I have taught. He has a towering intellect that stands head and shoulders above his peers. In AP Comparative Government, he consistently demonstrates a sophisticated understanding of complex political systems, institutions, and global policy issues. He engages thoughtfully with course material, asks insightful questions, and elevates classroom discussions with well-reasoned, evidence-based perspectives. His analytical writing reflects both intellectual rigor and intellectual curiosity—he does not simply aim for high grades, but for deep understanding.

Beyond the classroom, Drew exemplifies what it means to be an engaged citizen. As a leader in North Carolina Youth and Government, he has shown remarkable initiative, responsibility, and integrity. He understands the importance of civil discourse, collaboration, and principled leadership. His involvement in Youth and Government directly reflects the same qualities I see daily in class: preparation, respect for differing viewpoints, and a commitment to thoughtful participation in democratic processes. For the 2026 conference of NCYAG, Drew served as a veritable lighthouse of leadership on the Governor's Cabinet.

Drew is also deeply involved in multiple clubs and organizations at Reagan High School, contributing his time and talents in ways that strengthen the school community. He is the kind of student who leads not for recognition, but to serve. His peers look up to him, and respect him not only for his intelligence, but for his kindness and encouragement. He is consistently supportive of classmates, willing to help others understand challenging material, and contributes to a classroom environment that is welcoming and intellectually vibrant.

What distinguishes Drew most is his character. He is engaged, responsible, and principled. He approaches challenges with maturity and resilience, and he treats others with respect and empathy. These qualities, combined with his academic excellence and civic leadership, make him exceptionally deserving of scholarship support.

I recommend Drew Davis without reservation. I am confident that he will continue to excel academically, contribute meaningfully to his community, and uphold the highest standards of leadership and integrity in all his future endeavors.

Please feel free to contact me if I can provide any additional information.
